

DVD Review by Peter Farrell `MANSOUR BAHRAMI – The Man Behind the Moustache`.

Most of us play tennis for fun, yet its noticeable that most people who play for a living rarely look as though they are having much fun on court..

One major exception to this statement is Mansour Bahrami, This 2 DVD set shows just how much enjoyment he gets from hitting tennis balls. Its also very obvious how much fun the audience gets from seeing him in full flow.

“Quite simply he is a genius”
John McEnroe

He has perfected some super trick shots, which never fail to amaze and entertain. In this DVD we see him taking part in various exhibition matches down the years, playing with and against legends such as Borg, McEnroe, Nastase and Becker.

But Bahrami also played on the main tour for a number of years, reaching the final of the French Open Doubles in 1989. Included is footage of him in action against top players such as Jimmy Connors and Yannick Noah. But even in these `serious` matches he could not resist the urge to amuse and entertain the crowd!

In a fascinating 40 minute interview, Bahrami tells his life story, starting with his childhood days in Iran where he grew to love the game. They were tough times. Lets just say that his experiences were very far removed from the typical child today who takes up tennis, and is ferried to private lessons with the best equipment in his or her racquet bag.

“This man is a legend”.
Bjorn Borg

If you love tennis, and your idea of a good day on court includes lots of fun, you will thoroughly enjoy the four hours of entertainment served up here by the irrepressible Mansour Bahrami.
